In the Early Childhood Education program you will learn how to help young children develop their physical, social, and intellectual skills, their self-confidence and imagination.

Program Highlights

Learn how to support, encourage and promote a young child's physical, emotional and social growth as well as their cognitive and language development.

You will also learn the skills necessary to plan, implement and evaluate play-based curriculum. Our courses are based on a philosophy that encourages inclusive practices and partnerships with families.

An emphasis is placed on applying what's learned in the classroom to real-world settings, preparing students to start their careers as early childhood educators.

Why Choose Fleming

A smaller program size means more individual attention in the classroom and customized field placements.

The program is designed to provide varied and extensive applied learning opportunities -from courses like Early Learning With Toddlers and Families and Early Learning Practicums in semesters two, three and four. An interactive online course and a teamwork project "Creating Your Own Childcare" in the final semester consolidate and conclude your ECE learning.

Fleming offers support services to assist students in the further development of fundamental life and learning skills important to successfully complete the program.

These skills include being able to work independently, participate in a team, organizational abilities, taking initiative and developing good work habits.

Aboriginal Emphasis Initiative

Fleming College's Aboriginal Emphasis Initiative is an inclusive approach to providing more understanding of Aboriginal peoples, communities and nations. ECE students at Sutherland Campus (Peterborough) will have an opportunity to take courses designed from an Aboriginal perspective with emphasis on Aboriginal peoples, history, spirituality and culture. See the Aboriginal Emphasis Initiative page for courses available in this program.

Work Placement

In semesters two and three, you'll put theoretical education to work in a child care environment. This will enrich studies in semester four, when you will be pulling it all together in a final field placement. A background working with young children (ages newborn to 12) in licensed child care centres is strongly recommended as a prerequisite for field placement.

Is this You?

To succeed in this program and in an ECE career, you need:

- Experience working with young children
